YouTube Community

Dear Kenny Hendrick 66,

We are writing to inform you that a recent post you made on our "YouTube Community" has been removed due to a violation of our "Irrelevant Content" Policy, based on the review(s) of internal content reviewers.

We detected this issue in response to user report(s)/auto detections. This is a permanent action taken globally. Reviews are meant to be helpful and trustworthy, and our policies are in place to help ensure a safe experience for all users.

When reviewing content or accounts to determine whether they are illegal or violate our policies, we take various information into consideration when making a decision, including post metadata (e.g., post title, description), account information (e.g., past history of policy violations), and other information provided through reporting mechanisms (where applicable) and own-initiative reviews.

You may have the option to pursue your claims in court. If you have legal questions or wish to examine legal options that may be available to you, you may want to consult with your own legal counsel.

Sincerely,
Google Support Community team
